NEW APRN Specialty Certification

“The purpose of the certification is to better identify APRNs who are most qualified and experienced in managing patient care,” according to GAPNA President Katherine Abraham Evans, DNP, FNP-C, GNP-BC, ACHPN, FAANP. Read more below!
How Diet May Affect Age-Related Macular Degeneration

Switching mice from a high glycemic diet to a low glycemic diet stopped the development of certain signs of age-related macular degeneration. The findings reveal insights into the impact of diet, metabolic changes, and the gut microbiome on macular degeneration. Read more below.

2017 Pharmacology Conference Sessions in Online Library

All the sessions from the 2017 Pharmacology Conference in San Francisco are now in the GAPNA Online Library. If you attended the conference, you now have access to the sessions. If you need pharmacology credit, be sure to check out the various packages available.

Find Your Local GAPNA Chapter

If you’re not already an active part of your local GAPNA chapter, we encourage you to get involved. Belonging to a chapter is a great way to network with colleagues and find support among peers who share your passion for caring for older adults. If there isn’t a chapter near you, consider starting one!
You are subscribed to GAPNA’s eAlert, a publication for GAPNA members and colleagues. From time-to-time, you will receive an email such as this one with important news and information relevant to gerontological nursing. If you wish to update your email address, please do so by editing your profile on the GAPNA Website. If you would like to unsubscribe from the GAPNA eAlert, click here.

The Gerontological Advanced Practice Nurses Association (GAPNA) is the organization of choice for advanced practice nurses who want to pursue continuing education in gerontological care and who seek peer support from experienced clinicians.
