Drug Therapy for Early Rheumatoid Arthritis: A Systematic Review Update

The Evidence-based Practice Center (EPC) Program at the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), in partnership with the Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI), has posted the draft report for the systematic review on Drug Therapy for Early Rheumatoid Arthritis: A Systematic Review Update. It is available for your review and feedback until February 10, 2018 at the Effective Healthcare Web site. The purpose of the review is to compare benefits and harms of drug therapies for adults with early rheumatoid arthritis (RA).
